Eleanor “Eldie” Acheson ’65
Vice President

Eldie has had a diverse career on the national level in law, business, civil rights, and government, while continuing a strong connection to Westover. Currently the Vice President, General Counsel, and Corporate Secretary for Amtrak, Eldie previously had served as the Director of Public Policy and Government Affairs of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force. From 1993 to 2001, she was an Assistant Attorney General for the U.S. Justice Department in the Clinton Administration, responsible for a broad range of policy initiatives and the administration’s judicial selection process. From 1974 to 1993, Eldie worked – first as an associate and then as a partner – in the Boston law firm of Ropes & Gray. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and the George Washington University Law School.

A West, Eldie has described her lifetime connection to Westover “as an inevitability. I knew I was going to Westover before I even knew it was a school.” Her mother was the late Patricia Castles Acheson ’42, who was President of the Board of Trustees from 1978 to 1984. She is the niece of Mary Acheson Bundy ’42 and a cousin of Jane Castles Thompson ’72. Since her graduation, Eldie has served as a Class Secretary, as an Alumnae Association Governor from 1979 to 1987, and as a Trustee from 1990 to 1993. While a Trustee, Eldie helped to establish the Second Century campaign. Eldie was presented the Westover Award in 2000 in recognition of her professional and volunteer accomplishments.

In addition to her work on behalf of Westover, Eldie has served on the Board of Directors of Women, Inc., a residential rehabilitation program for drug- and alcohol-addicted women and their children. In 2001, Eldie was presented the Justice Department’s highest award, the Edmund J. Randolph Award for service to the Department and the United States. She is a 2011 recipient of the Margaret Brent Award presented by the American Bar Association’s Commission on Women in the Profession at the ABA annual meeting in August 2011. She also has received the Women’s Bar Association of Washington, DC Lawyer of the Year Award, the Boston Bar Association’s Pro Bono Coordinator of the Year, the Massachusetts Women’s Political Caucus Abigail Adams Award, an award from the Women’s Statewide Legislative Network in Massachusetts for her “lifelong commitment to the issues of Women in Poverty,” A True Woman of Substance Award from Women, Inc. on its 20th Anniversary, an award from the National Association of Women Judges and the Women Judges Fund for Justice, and the Women’s Bar Association’s Leila J. Robinson Award “in recognition of outstanding achievement in the Legal Profession.” Eldie resides in Washington, DC, with her spouse, Emily Hewitt. Outside work, Eldie enjoys sailing, hiking, and traveling.

Blair Danzoll Stambaugh
Vice President

Blair joined the Board of Trustees in 2011 with 45 years’ experience in independent schools, including more than three decades as the head of two renowned all-girls schools. Blair served as Head of School of The Baldwin School in Bryn Mawr, PA, from 1980 until her retirement in 2006. Previously, she had served as Headmistress of The Bryn Mawr School in Baltimore, MD, from 1973 to 1980. Earlier in her career in education, she was a teacher of Latin and Greek at Abbot Academy in Andover, MA, as well as a teacher of Latin, English, and History at Pine Cobble School in Williamstown, MA, and as an instructor of Latin at Williams College in Williamstown.

Active in a number of educational organizations throughout her career, Blair is a past Vice President, member of the Executive Committee, and a board member of the National Coalition of Girls’ Schools; a past President and Treasurer of both the Country Day School Headmasters’ Association and The Headmasters’
A long-time volunteer for Westover, Judy has been a member of the Alumnae Association Board of Governors, a Class Secretary, a Reunion Chair, a Second Century Campaign volunteer, and a phonation volunteer. Judy and her husband, Ned, split their time between their home in northern Maryland, Rain River Farm, and Spring Island, in the low country of South Carolina. And no matter where they go, they enjoy the company of their English Springer spaniels. She also recently retired from serving as a long-time board member for Ladew Gardens, a 22-acre site that includes a manor house, topiary gardens, and a nature walk in Monkton, Maryland.

"I believe Westover is even more exciting today than when I attended," Judy said, "and I look forward, as a Board of Trustees member, to spreading the word of both the important mission and the continued commitment to what drew me there – friendships and traditions."

Lisa Detwiler ’80
Secretary

Lisa is an accomplished legal and compliance executive with more than 25 years of experience in government, large law firm and industry-leading financial institutions. Lisa serves as Senior Vice President, General Counsel, and Chief Compliance Officer of FS2 Capital Partners, a Franklin Square Capital Partners company. Previously, she had served as a Director and Senior Managing Counsel at Pershing LLC and Lockwood Advisors, both BNY Mellon companies, where she earned Pershing’s 2013 Responsible Growth Award for delivering exceptional results. Earlier in her career, she was a partner in the business department and co-chair of Schnader Harrison Segal & Lewis’s financial institutions practice group, was chief counsel of the Pennsylvania Department of Banking, an adjunct professor of federal banking law at Widener University School of Law, and was a staff attorney at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington, DC. Lisa holds a B.A. in Economics cum laude from Mount Holyoke College and a law degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, where she was Executive Editor of The University of Pittsburgh Law Review.

An Over, Lisa is a past member of Westover’s Alumnae Association Board of Governors, serving as its President from 1999 to 2001; in that role she served as an ex officio member of Westover’s Board of Trustees. She has served as a Class Agent, Class Secretary, Reunion Chair, and a Reunion Gift Chair.

Lisa is a member of a number of professional legal associations and is a frequent public speaker on banking and securities matters. Currently, she is a board member of the Forum of Executive Women, Philadelphia VIP, and the Committee of Seventy. She has served on the boards of a number of civic, charitable, and non-profit organizations in Philadelphia. Lisa and her husband, Donald Mahoney, reside in Philadelphia.

Judith LeSage Grassi ’74
Treasurer

Judy first learned about Westover from her sister, Nancy LeSage Hellmuth ’70. “I feel very fortunate to have learned so many life lessons at Westover. Girls were encouraged to collaborate, lead and discover who they were growing up to be. Plus, it was lots of fun.” Judy did gain leadership skills at Westover, serving as First Head of Oevers during her junior year and First Head of the Athletic Association in her senior year. Judy also received the Athletic Award at graduation for excellence in team sports. After Westover, she graduated from Lake Forest College, where she received a B.A. in History.

Judy recently retired from a 30-plus-year career in higher education financing. At the time of her retirement from Navient, a publicly traded corporation (formerly part of Sallie Mae) that specializes in education loan servicing and asset recovery management, Judy was the corporation’s representative to the U.S. Department of Education. Prior to joining Sallie Mae and Navient, Judy was president of Academic Management Services, a leading tuition payment plan company based outside of Providence, Rhode Island.

A long-time volunteer for Westover, Judy has been a member of the Alumnae Association Board of Governors, a Class Secretary, a Reunion Chair, a Second Century Campaign volunteer, and a phonation volunteer. Judy and her husband, Ned, split their time between their home in northern Maryland, Rain River Farm, and Spring Island, in the low country of South Carolina. And no matter where they go, they enjoy the company of their English Springer spaniels. She also recently retired from serving as a long-time board member for Ladew Gardens, a 22-acre site that includes a manor house, topiary gardens, and a nature walk in Monkton, Maryland.

“I believe Westover is even more exciting today than when I attended,” Judy said, “and I look forward, as a Board of Trustees member, to spreading the word of both the important mission and the continued commitment to what drew me there – friendships and traditions.”
In addition to his volunteer work for Westover, Dom is a member of the Board of Directors of Holy Cross High School in Waterbury, a member of the Pastoral Council of Our Lady of Loreto Church in Waterbury, and is a Past President of the Rotary Club of Middlebury-Southbury-Woodbury. His hobbies include playing the guitar and weight training.

Caroline Demirs Calio '93

A West, Caroline works as an attorney for Cummings and Lockwood, LLC, serving as a Principal in the West Hartford, Connecticut, office. She practices in the areas of estate planning, estate settlement and trust administration. She also advises closely held businesses on succession planning issues and general corporate matters. Caroline has served in an advisory capacity to the Alumnae & Development Office in the area of estate planning.

Caroline received a B.A. in History and Political Science from the University of Richmond in 1997, and her J.D., cum laude, from Boston University School of Law in 2000. A member of the Connecticut Bar Association and the Estate and Business Planning Council, Caroline has been named a top young lawyer in Connecticut by Connecticut Magazine and Super Lawyers Magazine. In addition, Caroline is a Director of The Bridge Family Center in West Hartford.

Frederic Clark P'11

Fred and his wife, Terri, share the same appreciation for Westover that their daughter, Paige Clark '11, has for the School and its role in transforming the lives of young women. “Our daughter chose Westover because it provides a unique opportunity for young women to learn, mature, provide community service, and have fun,” Fred noted. “As a Trustee I hope to be able to support the School’s mission and ensure that future generations are provided this great opportunity.”

Since 2000, Fred has served as the President of Thule Inc., a division of the Swedish manufacturer of outdoor recreation transportation equipment. He joined Thule Inc, which is based in Seymour, CT, in 1993. He is the Chairman of the Outdoor Foundation, a not-for-profit foundation established to inspire and grow future generations of outdoor enthusiasts, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Outdoor Industry Association, a premier trade association for companies in the active outdoor recreation business. Fred holds a B.A. from Western New England College and an M.B.A. from the University of New Haven.

In addition to Paige, who was Second Head of School during her senior year at Westover and is now a junior at Dickinson College, Fred and Terri are the parents of an 18-year-old son, Wyatt, who graduated from The Gunnery in 2013. The family resides in Woodbury, CT. Fred’s interests include biking, skiing, and fly fishing.

Christine Muldowney Dahl '82 P'14

Christine joins the Board of Trustees after serving on the Alumnae Association Board of Governors for several years. As a parent of a recent Westover graduate, Christine was thrilled to serve with her fellow Governors and on the Student Outreach Committee.

In addition, Christine’s experience as an interior designer has been a great resource to the School, with Christine providing design advice for several projects, including the recent redecoration of Red Hall. She recently helped in the renovation of Lee House for new Head of School Julie Faulstich and she will be working on the School’s Master Plan.

An Over, Christine received a B.A. in English from Lake Forest College. While living in Singapore and Australia for eight years when her husband Nils worked abroad, Christine received a degree in Interior Design from the Whitehouse Institute of Design in Sydney, Australia.

Christine and Nils now reside in Southport, CT, with their daughter, Andie, a member of Westover’s Class of 2014, who is attending Georgetown University. In addition to her volunteer efforts on behalf of Westover, Christine enjoys travel, the arts, and cooking.

William Donovan P'11, '16

Bill brings to the Board of Trustees both extensive experience and expertise in the investment field combined with a knowledge of the School that comes with years of being a Westover parent. “As a parent of two Westover graduates,” Bill said, “I appreciate the quality and lasting value of a Westover education. By serving as a Trustee, I look forward to helping the School prosper and continue fulfilling its worthy mission.” Bill and his wife, Lisa, are the parents of Anne Donovan ’11, a 2015 graduate of Tufts University, and Claire Donovan ’16, who is now attending the University of Pennsylvania. The family resides in Brewster, New York.

Since 2011, Bill has served as President of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund. He began his career with U.S. Steel in 1980 as an accounting intern. After receiving his law degree in 1985 he was appointed as a tax attorney for the company. In 1994, he joined United States Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund as an investment analyst. Before being named President, he had served as Vice President – Investments since 2000. Bill holds a B.A. in Accounting from Grove City College and a law degree from Duquesne University School of Law.
A member of the New York Society of Security Analysts and the American Bar Association, Bill also serves as a Trustee of the Steelworkers Pension Trust and is on the executive committee for the Committee on Investment of Employee Benefit Assets (CIEBA). Bill enjoys travel, reading, playing golf, and watching college basketball and Pittsburgh sports teams.

Jennifer Gold '87

As a new Trustee, Jennifer said she is “looking forward to being involved with the Westover community again.” She had served as a member of the Alumnae Association Board of Governors from 2000 to 2006, is a past Class Agent and Reunion Gift Chair, and has helped to host Westover gatherings in the Los Angeles area.

Jen is the Senior Director, Global Trade Shows and Event Production for Mattel. Over the course of her career, she also has worked in marketing and special events for The Walt Disney Company and Nickelodeon.

While at Westover Jen, an Over, was a member of the Wick staff and played varsity soccer and softball. She holds a B.A. in History from Denison University.

Jen has organized events for Mattel at the Special Olympics in Los Angeles and co-chaired a fundraiser for Mattel’s Children’s Hospital Dream Team. She also has been a coach and commissioner for the AYSO (American Youth Soccer Organization) BU5. Jen resides in Los Angeles with her 5-year-old son, Asher. “On top of being a Mom,” she added, “I love playing golf and traveling.”

Carol Goldburg ’80

The Executive Director of the Undergraduate Economics Program at Carnegie Mellon University, Carol brings her extensive experience in education to her role as a member of Westover’s Board of Trustees. A past member of the Alumnae Association Board of Governors, Carol said, “I am so honored and pleased to have an opportunity to give back to Westover. Without a doubt, my education at Westover was the finest of any programs that I have ever been in.”

Carol holds a B.S. in Mathematics, an M.S. in Applied History and Social Sciences, an M.S. in Political Economy and Economics, and a Ph.D. in Political Economy and Economics, all from Carnegie Mellon. She also holds Diplômes de Traduction, Diplômes de Langue Orale, Diplômes de Phonetique, all from Institute Catholique de Paris.

In addition to volunteering for university level based events and organizations, Carol said, “Tutoring the neighborhood children in mathematics (specifically remedial elementary grade levels through calculus in two dimensions) and GED preparation is perhaps the most personally meaningful volunteer activities in which I participate. I suppose that I am trying to recreated Ann Pollina’s mathematics classroom and share with everyone the ‘beauty of mathematics.’” She added that she particularly loves “teaching fractions, geometry, calculus, and the art of approximating and guesstimating.”

In addition to math education, Carol’s other areas of interest range from post-secondary educational opportunities to individual and social responsibility (affordable housing, affordable wages, access to education) to music and knitting. Carol and her spouse, Kristina M. Straub, are the parents of two children, Bailey Kristina Clark and Salima Evangeline Clark. They reside in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
